Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

THINING—K

We note with pleasure that the "innocent" editor who claimed that one Harry See had been the "power that be" to bring about the improvement of the Downieville road, is about to reply to the letter from Senator Jerry Seawell published last week in the Nugget. This will be interesting because the Downieville editor proposes to prove that Harry See did really swing the almost one million dollars that finally made the dirt fly.

The Downieville Messenger's editorial, extolling the million-swinging See, which was reproduced in the Nugget should really have been placed under an "Amusement" heading. We never supposed that anyone, much less Senator Seawell would have been moved to more than a smile. But apparently there are deeper waters running in Sacramento than in these mountains. An old cattle man, who reads the Nugget remarked: "Harry See? Harry See? Who is he? Who is he?" and then went on to say that whoever he was he had as much to do with decreasing the curves in the Mae West road, as a steer had in increasing his herds.

The credit of obtaining improvements in the Downieville highway belongs to a great many people. We remember away back when F. F. Cassidy was president of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce, that all of Nevada City's business men who belonged to the Chamber, were energetically trying to convince the State Highway commission that we needed a better road between here and Downieville. Then followed years in which several hundred thousand dollars were expended on the Downieville end of the road, which surely needed it, but which, as a matter of fact overlooked a large section of the traffic that originates between Nevada City and the North Fork.

However, the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce kept hammering away. The writer was on one of the Chamber committees, which made a special trip to Marysville to appeal to State Highway Engineer C. H. Whitmore to recommend that the next $100,000 be be spent on the Nevada City end of the road. We don't think the committee appeal moved the engineer one iota toward his decision, for as a matter of fact he had already decided to recommend the improvement of the road into and out of the South Yuba canyon. The committee and the chamber were greatly rejoiced because during the school term 25 or 30 children from North San Juan and French Corral used to drive over that very dangerous road five days a week in the school bus.

One of the reasons more money was not spent more often and sooner on the Downieville highway was due to dissension in Downieville itself. A group in this little city with some 500 inhabitants demanded of the state highway commission that a multi-million dollar highway be built down the North Fork of the Yuba straight to Marysville. And a lot of Marysville business men kidded the Downieville folks into thinking that the highway commission would be spend-crazy enough to build another Feather River highway along the North Yuba. The Feather River highway has one of the lowest traffic counts in the state and it cost, if memory serves, some seven millions.

No question but that some day there will be a scenic highway built along the North Yuba over the Yuba Pass, but it will be done when the population of California is several millions greater than now, and when east and west out-of-state traffic warrants the huge expendiutre.

Now, if Harry See, or any other stranger to these parts, helped to

GERMANS GIVEN DOSE OF OWN MEDICINE. THEY DON'T LIKE IT

England is enjoying the respite from constant pounding by German bombers, according to a letter received by H. U. Maxfield, of the Sixteen-to-One Mine, from his friend, A. Beeby Thompson of London. The indimtiable British will to victory revealed in this letter indicates the hard road Herr Hitler must travel. Mr. Thompson's letter follows:

Mr. H. U. Maxfield, 1611 Russ Building, San Francisco, California. Dear Mr. Maxfield:

Very many thanks for your letter of June 13th with cutting from local paper. All very much to the good and symptomatic of the change of opinion in progress. We certainly have strange bed fellows now in the Russians. The German attack on Russia is the last act of perfidy of a madman and scoundrel but he seems likely to have to suffer for this new attack after all the pacts and assurances of friendship. Certainly Russia had no intention of attacking Germany and I fear that Hitler is short of war necessities and hoped to rob someone, as he could not purchase with his useless marks. Anyway this Russian attack has given us a period of relative peace and we have only had a few sporadic and poor air attacks for some weeks. May it continue! Meanwhile we are giving the Huns, a taste of their own medicine and they don't seem to like it. With your help we shall soon have an air mastery and then we can retaliate properly and this will make the people long for peace. It is for them to kick out the present regime. We are having a tropical summer, no rain and perpetual sunshine. The garden is delightful.

With kindest regards to your and yours, Yours very sincerely,

A. BEEBY THOMPSON.

SAN JUAN BUS PURCHASED BY SCHOOL BOARD

At a cost of $3,730.96, the Nevada City Unified School District, at its meeting this week, purchased a 37 passenger school bus from the Mountain Equipment Company for the transporting of high school students from the North San Juan district to Nevada City.

The new bus was purchased because there were no responses to the school board's request for bids for transportation. The purchase of the bus will be over a period of three years.

The board accepted the resignation of Mildred Hunkin as English instructor at the high school and appointed Miss Ruth Kearney of Berkeley to fill the vacancy. Miss Hunkin has accepted a position as librarian at the Santa Cruz High School.

Mrs. Kay Martin's bid for transportation of elementary and high school students from the Lake Vera district was accepted.

Rotary Has Own News Bulletin

An innovation for the Rotary club is a news bulletin issued weekly in time for its Thursday luncheons. In it appear items concerning the members, the committees, or sketches of future events of importance to the club.

In the bulletin congratulations are extended to members on their wedding or birthday anniversaries, thanks to those who have extended hospitality to the Rotarians, and "previews" of programs to be heard. Fred Garrison is the Secretary-Editor.

Captain and Mrs. A. H. Willard and family have moved from Sacramento Street to the Chapman home on Lost Hill.

ROOSEVELT, CHURCHILL OUTLINE PEACE AIMS

Over the radio this morning from London came the proclamation of an international Magna Carta, as agreed upon by Premier Winston Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt at a conference in mid-Atlantic during the last two days.

Among the decisions reached by the two great leaders of the democracies were:

To help every nation to maintain its own chosen form of government and to live in peace.

To give all possible aid to Russia and to suppress aggressions of dictators.

At the close of the war to disarm Germany.

After the war, as a condition to world peace to give every nation a fair chance in the economic world.

TRAFFIC SAFETY IS ROTARY TOPIC

Robert Tamblyn was the speaker at today's Rotary luncheon. He gave an address on safety precautions. As an insurance man he had much information regarding traffic accidents. He declared that during the six major wars in which this country has engaged the total number killed was approximately 225,000 persons. This over the elapsed time of the six wars, about fifteen years. In fifteen years traffic deaths have totaled nearly 250,000, which would show that the accident death toll is greater than deaths in war.

In 1940 over 35,000 persons were killed in traffic accidents, and the figures for the first six months of 1941 show a big increase over that. The largest number of deaths on the highways occur between 7:00 and 8:30 o'clock in the evening. Of the 35,000 killed last year, 20,000 died after dark. Actuaries of insurance companies, estimating the deaths or injuries of the future, find that in a family of a father, mother and three children, one of the three children will die or be injured in a traffic accident.

To promote interest in and to obtain improvements to Pioneers Park, President Helm Kjorlie named a committee headed by Bill Tamblyn. A committee with Dr. Hummelt as chairman was also named to organize a movement to restore and preserve Fire House No. 1, as one of the revered landmarks of Nevada City.

Grand officers of the lodges, as well as past presidents of the Rebekah Assembly, and lodges from Nevada City, Dutch Flat, Colfax, Marysville, Auburn, Placerville, Newcastle, Roseville, Lincoln, Pleasant Grove and Sacramento have been invited to the dinner and reception.

Supervisor Ellis Assists In Locating Rancher's Lost Sheep

Supervisor Guerdon Ellis of the Tahoe National Forest and Ranger Anselmo Lewis took time off from a grazing survey of the North Bloomfield-Meadowlake district to help Jess Ennor, a Nevada County rancher, locate 125 sheep which strayed from the regular herd.

The forest service men made the survey on horses loaned to them by Ennor.

Ellis reports sighting many fine fat bucks on the trip.

Proposed Army Camp Includes 10,240 Acres In Nevada County

SUPERVISORS DELAY ACTION ON ROAD ABANDONING UNTIL MEETING HERE ON AUGUST 20TH

Action on the requested abandoning of roads on 10,240 acres of land in Nevada County which will be in the proposed 70,000 acre cantonment in the Smartville area was delayed until August 20th by the board of supervisors here this week.

A delegation of Nevada County farmers who stand to have the government take over their property appeared before the board to protest the cantonment on their land, which they consider their means of livelihood.

The Interstate Land Holding Company, which owns a large portion of the acreage to be included in the cantonment in Nevada and Yuba Counties, has signified its willingness to coopérate with the government and will not stand in the way of the army camp.

The Nevada County landowners whose property will be taken over if the cantonment is established, and everything points that way, include:

Interstate Land Holding Company, M. J. Coughlan, Nellie Staples, John F. Owens, Nevada Irrigatian District, Charles and Donald Staples, August Anderson, J. B. Kneebone, J. G. Berryhill, Grace Nichols, F. H. Deeds, Francis H. Hunt, Clarence Leavell, John H. Eickhoff, Jr., Virginia Hughes, E. Giroux, California Gold and Copper Company, H. C. Lewis, William T. Peckham, L. P. and Bertha Pisani, Joseph R. Kneebone, Ernest L. Pittman, Paul Van Wagner, Albert R. Herman and Emilie M. H. Weber and OlgaH. Comer, R. C. and Vivian L. Jones, Marvin Pittman, James Chester Welch, George T. Ehman, W. E. Jones, Mary E. Anderson, Wallace J. Sanford and D. N. and Elba Jones.

Curfew Again

Chief of Poice Max Solaro said starting next month the curfew will will again toll in Nevada City.

Anyone under 18 years of age caught on the sidewalks or streets later than 9 o'clock will be ordered home.

The curfew rang for quite a long time here a couple of years ago but stopped when the night watchman got tired of ringing it.

$100 Fine For Liquor Violation

Frank Leong proprietor of the Food Palace, was fined $100 today by City Judge Miles Coughlin after he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of selling liquor to minors.

The youth involved in the case, 16 years of age, has been turned over to the juvenile authorities.

Leong was arrested by Chief of Police Max Solaro, who said he saw the youth enter the store and purchase the intoxicants.

The case was then turned over to Russell Farley, state board of equalization inspector, and Leong was brought before Judge Coughlin on the charge.

Chief Solaro said his force intends to see that the law prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors is strictly enforced.

MRS. SCHMIDT HONORED HERE ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Ed Schmidt of Factory Street, who celebrated her 85th birthday last week, was given a delightful surprise party at the Ernest Schreiber home on her natal day.

Mrs. Eden called at the home of Mrs. Schmidt and invited her to go for a ride. After some urging she consented. Mrs. Schmidt was driven to Grass Valey and then taken to the Schreiber home, where a group of old friends had gathered for the surprise occasion.

Mrs. Schmidt said it was one of the happiest days of her life. The aged woman is well liked by everyone. She is a widow. Her husband followed farming for years and upon his retirement the couple moved to a home on Factory Street. She continued to reside at the home following his death.

Constructing Quartermaster For Army Cantonment Establishes Headquarters

MARYSVILLE — Capt. Franklin W. Fish, constructing quartermaster assigned to the army cantonment to be established south east of here, established office headquarters in the Marysville city hall building yesterday. He said planning of engineering details for the camp will start at once.

Although there has not as yet been any official word from Washington regarding an appropriation for the cantonment, it was learned that a contract for preliminary work has been let to Lippincott & Bowen, a Los Angeles firm of architectural and engineering contractors. Captain, Fish said he will confer with heads of the company immediately.

Warren Shingle, president of the Marysville district chamber of commerce, declared that committees are to be appointed to correlate all activities for assembling skilled and unskilled labor to handle the rush construction job at the camp, and to arrange to meet an expected shortage of housing accommodations in the local community.

"Baked" trees, preserved in lava, have been uncovered by a crew excavating for road improvements near Emigrant Gap. The crew also uncovered several objects which resemble bones.

Supervisor Charles Geisendorfer of Placer County, said the wood of the trees is well preserved and resembles cedar. It is neither petrified nor charred, but appears to have been baked by the intene lava heat.

The trees, some of them 15 inches in diameter, were found five and six feet beneath the ground surface. White objects resembling bone joints were found adjoining.

The road crew is widening the route which leads from Emigrant Gap to the Tahoe Ukiah Highway and will serve as an optional road should anything happen to block the main highwaly. It is a defense project.

FLYING TOO LOW

Two navy ensigns in the air force were stunting over an Alabama turnip field, flying so low that they decapitated a woman working there.

Months later the two flyers are sent to prison for involutary manslaughter after being dismissed from the service. They are to be imprisoned at hard labor; the pilot getting a two-year term and his flying companion one half as severe.

The long delay between the death of the woman and the infliction of the punishment was consumed in conducting the court martial, getting the findings approved in Washington and then issuing the orders for the carrying out of the sentence.

Hedge-hopping in army and navy air training is a common practice. But hedge-hopping doesn't require dropping the plane so close to the ground that it will slice off the heads of men and women working there.

The people have rights even if the army and navy are using much of the nation as a training ground. Flyers must get their time in the air. and they must learn to handle a plane under any and all conditions. But there is plenty of thinly populated country over which these cadets can manipulate their planes. where they will not interfere with the citizenry and where they can stunt all they please.

Sacramento is becoming a vast training center for the army. To the north. east and south are thousands of acres of land where the residents are few and where the pilots can find all kinds of hazards to make them more proficient in their flying.

The farther they keep away from the cities and the higher in the air they fly their planes, the fewer accidents these young men will have and the fewer people they will annoy injure and possibly kill.

A NATIONAL SCANDAL

Illustrative beyond all words that one could write of the coddling of radical elements by the Roosevelt administration is the case of Harry Bridges, Pacific Coast agitator. Indeed the soft-gloved handling of this alien agitator by the Roosevelt administration already smells to high heaven and it soon may become a national scandal.

It now has been three years since the Labor Department filed a warrant against Bridges charging him with violation of an American law. This law provides that any alien who shall be proved to have been at any time a member or affiliated with any organization seeking the overthrow of our form of government by force and violence shall be deported.

First came a hearing—16 months later—under auspices of Secretary of Labor Perkins which was a farce. The proceedings were so conducted, F. B. I. Chief Hoover subsequently said, that Bridges' witnesses were enabled to give false testimony with immunity. A second hearing was inaugurated last March under Justice Department auspices. This hearing hardly commenced when it was recessed 8 days to permit Bridges to attend his union's convention.

More recently he has been traveling about the country, airing his views. In the middle of July, Bridges had the gall to make the round of the offices of congressmen in Washington. telling them how to vote on the labor section of the May draft deferment bill. Yet. at this writing, no decision has come regarding the charges against him.

Contrast this gentle handling of Bridges with the properly expeditious deportation of two German propaganda agents: they were out of the country four months after the charge was made!—Contributed.

NEW DEAL FIELD MARSHALS

The House Ways and Means Committee, reporting to the House a record-breaking $3,500,000,000 tax bill which will fall far short of producing enough additional revenue to match the additional spending forced by the defense program, predicts that the new taxes and the tax increases about to be enacted will be "borne cheerfully."

The committee is right in its appraisal of the American people. with a quilification. They are ready to make any sacfifice for national defense. They are willing to assume any burden for national defense. The cheerfulness of many of them, however, will be modified by the knowledge that congress has made no serious effort to economize in the field of non-defense expenditures, that the New Dealers permit no emergency however grave, to interfere with continuation of their social experiments, and that every agency in Washington, whatever its original purpose, is now on the defense band wagon, with every little bureaucrat dressed up as a field marshal.—New York Sun.

HOSIERY CRISIS

Nevada County stores report the biggest hosiery business they have ever had, making sales in one or two days that equal the transactions of an average month.

Reason is the fear on the part of the weaker sex that silk stockings no longer will be available. If the supply is exhausted some substitute will be found, and the patriotic thing will be to wear the substitute. Women who have laid in large stocks of silk hosiery will find them deteriorating and later will regret the hours they spent waiting in line to get to a counter to lay in an over-supply.

Most of the things that are going to happen to America in the way of shortages of necessities and rationings of materials are still in the talking stage. No need to get frightened or to jump off the deep end. The people always get along, no matter how acute the conditions may be. Women have done without silks before and can do so again.

ACCUSED HIGHGRADERS DISPOSE OF $6,000 IN GOLD BEFORE CAUGHT

Details of the case against two Nevada Countyans held in Sacramento on charges of highgrading have been released by John F. Bongard, chief inspector for the state division of mines.

Bongard said the arrest of Mart A. Sharp and Joseph Launius came after they had delivered about $6,000 in gold to buyers, who, in turn, sold it to the mint over a course of several weeks.

Affidavits accompanying these deliveries specified the gold had been obtained on the American River near Blue Canyon. However, due to the fineness of the gold, the authenticity of the affidavits was questioned and an investigation launched by the state and federal authorities.

Bongard said the men admitted the gold came from the Friant Dam, and that Sharp had implicated Cecil Clay, his son in law.

Clay, who was employed as an amalgator at the gold plant at the dam, has disappeared and the officers are conducting a search for him.

Sharp and Launius have been held to answer by the United States Commissioner in Sacramento.

move the state highway commission to spend in improvement and maintenance some $900,000 odd-upon the Downieville road, we are willing to say an humble thank-you. But let us not forget the part Senator Jerry Seawell has played in, shall we say, informing the state highway commission of the crying need for betterments. And, we should be thankful for the good solid spade work done by the Nevada County supervisors and by the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce, under the leadership of F. F. Cassidy, Fred Conner, Emmett Gallagher, Bert Foreman and Guerdon Ellis, and the business men at both ends of the line and in between, who have backed up the effort to get this improvement made.

In brief, another stretch of the Downieville road has been splendidly improved. Thanks is due to all those that helped. But those who didn't help, naturally resent the intrusion of an imposter, an outsider, who butts in as a public benefactor to claim the gratitude of the communities which use the road.

Helzapoppin Stars

Billy House, Ruth Morehouse, Emily Jewell and Eddie Garr who play leading roles in Helzapoppin which opens a two-day engagement Friday night, August 29, in the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium.

HELLZAPOPPIN COMES TO SACTO. STAGE AUG. 29

"Hellzapoppin," the Olson and Johnson streamlined musical revue which has been doubling up Broadway with laughter for three full years, opens an engagement of two days at Sacramento Memorial Auditorium Friday evening, August 29th. (State Fair visitors please note!)

Hellzapoppin is more than just a title. It is an apt one word description of the rowdiest and most scatterbrained revue in the history of the American theatre. Where other musicals may seek to bedazzle the customers with elaborate and intricate scenes, Hellzapoppin is a show filled with mad monkeyshines that spill off the stage and into the auditorium—making the boxes and aisles as much a part of the production as that section of the theatre behind the footlights. All the world may or may not be a stage, but certainly the entire theatre becomes one when Hellzapoppin is installed on the premises.

Hellzapoppin has broken several of the traditions of the theatre. It begin before it is supposed to and it does not end when it is expected to; it enlists the audience as its conspirators and the patrons participate in the mad goings on; there is dancing in the aisles as well as on the stage. It is funny, irreverent, waggish and at times verges on the fringe of nonsensical lunacy. It holds the record for consecutive performances of any musical in history, and it has played to more people and grossed more money, both on Broadway and on the road, than any other American revue. Its humor is typically American, and yet it is unlike any other musical production. Decidedly, Hellzapoppin is in a class by itself.

The cast is headed by Billy House and Eddie Garr, veteran comedians and zanies of the first order. To support them has been gathered a company of 100 skilled performers, clowns and talented chorus girls. Among the principals are Grace and Nikko, the Oxford Boys, Ben Dova, Paul Gordon, the Sterner Sisters, the Read Sisters, Bobby Jarvis, Joe Wong, Elizabeth Scott, Clare Louise Evans and Billy Potter.

There will be a special matinee on Saturday. Tickets for Hellzapoppin are on sale now at the Ware-Hazelton box office, Weinstock-Lubin's, Sacramento.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

BEHAVIOR

What a man does, not what he feels, or believes, is the universal yardstick of behavior. — Benjamin C. Leeming.

Be civil to all; sociable to many; familiar with few, friend to one; enemy to none.—Benjamin Franklin.

Never return evil for evil; and, above all, do not fancy that you have been wronged when you have not been.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Let us be true; this is the highest maxim of art and of life, the secret of eloquence and virtue, and of all moral authority.—Amiel's Journaal.

What is becoming in behavior is honorable, and what is honorable is becoming.—Cicero.

Oddities and singularities of behavior may attend genius, but when they do, they are its misfortunes and blemishes.—Sir William Temple.

STANDARD WAGES FOR AIRCRAFT SHOP LEARNERS

Aircraft jobs in Southern California are now available to young men in this territory who will be paid standard wages while training at the factory, it was announced today by Ed Steele, manager of the Grass Valley office of the California Department of Employment, when he said that the department today has launched a drive to assist in filling orders for 6400 workers for a large aircraft concern in Southern California.

Steele said that there are 3200 jobs open to Riveter Trainees and 3200 jobs open to Shop Learners. The quota of 64 has been set for the Nevada County area and it is suggested that all young men who are interested should apply at once to the Grass Valley office.

The order specifies that workers must be at least 18 years old, with some high school training, and some aptitude or experience in mechanical lines. Mechanical experience with automobiles or farm equipment, manual art training or defense course training will be considered. Applicants must be physically fit and be able to give accurate information with respect to citizenship status.

The aircraft company will send a representative into the area to interview applicants at a specified time in the near future.

Unless sufficient applicants acceptable to the comuany are secured it will be necessary to clear the orders in other states, Steele said, according to advices received from headquarters of the Department in Sacramento.

Shop learners will be trained in plant jobs for the following operations:

All applications for employment at the aircraft concern must be made through the office of the California Department of Employment. In Grass Valley, the address is 111 So. Auburn Street, telephone number 640.

Distinctive Crocheted Tablecloth In Heirloom Pattern

REMINISCENT of the past is the classic pinwheel design in crochet, here used in an exquisite cloth for a modern table. You can make this cloth yourself, crocheting each whirling medallion separately in mercerized crochet cotton. Whether you choose traditional white or ecru, or experiment with a color, you need have no fear that your cloth will lose any of its beauty of texture or color after frequent launderings. Another practical note which should not be overlooked is the very small cost involved in the making of this tablecloth. Each motif will cost less than 1¢ to crochet! Directions for crocheting this cloth may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of The National Needlecraft Bureau, 385 Fifth Ave., New York City.

OUTLAW STRIKE HALTS BUILDING OF U.S. SHIPS

KEARNY, N. J., Aug. 14. — The Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company has sent a telegram this afternoon to the Secreary of the Navy reading as follows:

"The Honorable Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.

In the interest of National Defense we hereby offer our shipyard at Kearny, New Jersey to the Navy Department for immediate possession and operation. The yard has been closed for four days by a strike which involves no issue but the maintenance of the open shop. We are unwilling to abandon the defense of the freedom of the American worker to choose whether he will belong to a union or not. We will fully cooperate with you in making this offer effective.

Federal Shiubuilding and Dry Dock Company. L. H. Korndorff."

In explanation of this offer, Mr. Korndorff says:

"At midnight last Wednesday an unjustified strike was called at our shipyard at Kearny, New Jersey by Local 16 of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America in violation of the union's recent agreement outlawing strikes in our yard for a period of two years —a strike having for its sole purpose the enforcement of the union demand for a closed shop.

"In our opinion the issue involved in this strike is of vital importance to this nation and the best interests of all our citizens. That issue is whether the American worker shall be permitted his traditional freedom of action and be allowed to determine for hmself whether or not he shall belong to a labor union.

"In our judgment no union should be permitted to use the present national emergency as a club to attain its own selfish ends through forcing industry to accept the closed shop. If the union is successful in this instance a similar contest is almost certain to follow in all other Atlantic Coast shipyards, soon spreading to defense industry in general.

"The closed shop has no legitimate connection with national defense—its aim is purely selfish, namely to enhance and perpetuate the power of the union.

"Furthermore we believe that a right on the part of the union to dictate that an employee shall not be permitted to work in our shipyards unless he maintains his union membership in good standing will seriously interfere with our efficient operation of the yard and with the successful fulfillment of our defense contracts. Such a right to dictate is thoroughly undemocratic and contrary to long established American principles of individual freedom of action. If these principles are to be fundamentally altered and the closed shop made a mandatory national labor policy, it should be brought about by acts of congress.

"When one thoroughly believes in the right and soundness of his convictions and [illegible] that the convictions are distinctly in the public interest, there can be no compromise with principles. Accordingly this company could not conscientiously accept the recommendation of two members constituting a majority of a division of the National Defense Mediation Board, one additional member dissenting, that this company voluntarily accede to the union demand for a closed shop.

"The secretary of labor certified this matter to the mediation board while collective bargaining negotiations with the union were still in progress. There was never any agreement on our part to abide by the recommendations of the mediation board.

"We wil be naturally sorry thus to give up our shipyard which has established a remarkable performance record, but we sincerely believe that a proper solution of the vital principles involved in this strike is of far greater moment in carrying forward the all-important national defense effort and in safe guarding the welfare of this nation than the fate of any single shipyard or company."

Bible selections will include the following passages from Matthew 16: 24, 26: "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross, and follow me. For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

A passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "Question—What are the demands of the Science of Soul?" Answer—The first demand of this Science is "Thou shalt have no other gods before me.' This me is Spirit. Therefore the command means this: Thou shalt have no intelligence, no life, no substance, no truth, no love, but that which is spiritual" (p. 467).

SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM WILL BE INCREASED THROUGHOUT NATION

Surplus Marketing Administration officials today looked forward to broadening the school lunch program which last year served 4,700,000 children throughout the nation.

Estimates have been prepared showing that at least 9,000,000 school children come from homes with incomes too small to afford them complete and well balanced diets.

Probable List

K. C. May, area supervisor for the school lunch program, said that while it is too early to state definitely what surplus foodstuffs will be available in California during the coming term, indications are the list will include oranges, prunes, raisins, dried apricots, canned grapefruit, evaporated milk dried skim milk, eggs, white flour, graham flour, corn meal, lard and probably some pork products.

Surpluses of some seasonal and perishable fruits and vegetables are being canned through civic programs and WPA projects for use in the fall school lunch program, and apples and pears also may be included in the surplus list.

Is Cooperative Effort

Charles F. Kunkel acting regional director of the SMA, explained the community school lunch is a cooperative effort on the part of various civic groups like parent-teacher associations, service and fraternal organizations, school officials, state welfare departments, the WPA, NYA and the United States Department of Agriculture.

In California this year, the state department of social welfare will handle the distribution of surplus commodities provided through the SMA. The department has set up a schedule for distributing the commodities to schools throughout the state and will be responsible for the certification as to the eligibility of indivilual schools for the receipt of commodities.

WPA Will Assist

The WPA will continue to assist in the program by making available cooks and helpers for preparing and serving the lunches in the communities where quota limitations permit their assignment.

Rural school programs, Kunkel said, frequently are operated with the voluntary help of mothers in the community assisted by extension service home demonstration agents, and with equipment donated by merchants.

In all cases, local sponsoring groups, besides making provisions for the preparation and serving of the food, must be in a position to provide additional food to supplement the commodities provided through the FSA.

Goal Stated

"The success of the school lunch program is in direct proportion to the interest of each local community in the nutrition needs of its children" Kunkel stated. "America's goal should be no undernourished children. The school lunch program aids both the nation's under-nourished children and the nation's agriculture and has been recognized as an important contribution to the health of the nation's youth by the National Nutrition Conference.

Kunkel further pointed out that the undernourished children may obtain warm noon day meals without embarrassment to them. Provision is made for the serving of the lunches in school cafeterias where children also may pay for their lunches, but any segregation or discriminating between children purchasing their lunches and those receiving them free is not permitted.

Commodities are contributed by the SMA on the basis of the number of children certified by school authorities as undernourished and in need of the lunches.

STATE RIGHTS RUMPUS BREWING

By CLEM WHITAKER

Federal encroachment on the right and perogative of the state—an issue which was hot in George Washington's day, and which is just as hot today—seems destined to stir up a new nation wide rumpus as a result of the proposed program by the Federal Power Commission to direct the expansion of the electric power and light indutsry beginning in 1943.

Of 45 state utility commissions polled by the Wall Street Journal in a telegraphic survey to determine reaction to the new program which would make Uncle Sam virtual czar of all power resources in the United States, the majority replied that they considered the plan a direct invasion of state's rights.

The survey was prompted by the power program submitted recently by the Federal Power Cimmission to President Roosevelt, calling for the installation of 13,500,000 kilowatts of generating capacity in 1943, 1944, 1945 and 1946. Hottest controversial feature of the plan was the recommendation that the power commission be given supervisory authority over it.

Replies to the survey were studded with such phrases as "prejudicial to the public welfare," "a threat to state ....urisdiction," "fraught with great danger," etc.

C. C. Baker, president of the California State Railroad Commission, replying for this state, not only denounced the plan as an encroachment on state authority, but also asserted bluntly that no power shortage exists in California and that there is therefore no excuse for federal interference.

The California commissioner's replied as follows:

"There is no power deficiency in California. This is due to a farsighted planning policy involving close cooperation between state and federal agencies, together with executives of distribution systems. The federal 'full control' proposal would undoubtedly precipitate complications involving delays, duplications, waste, et cetera, and would be far less effective towards attainment of the desired objectives.

"And continuation of the present policy would insure an adequate power supply and service under increasing demands with a minimum as to regulatory practices. In my opinion the proposed extension of federal agency authority would constitute an 'invasion of the prerogatives of state regulattory authorities'."

If the reaction of state regulatory bodies throughout the nation may be taken as a criterion of public sentiment in the various states, the scheme for totalitarian control of America's power resources is due for very rough sledding. The states just don't like it!

STATE TO HAVE CASH SURPLUS IN TWO YEARS

By T. M. BRIGHT

United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14.—(UP)—Steadily zooming revenue to the state of California, emerging from defense spending and private purchases resulting from increased payrolls, this week brought up the question that for a time had the 1941 legislature caught in the mill of today's favorite question:

Higher or lower taxes?

The state has a current deficit of $30,00,000, and during the closing days of the last legislature, Assembly Speaker Gordon Garland made what some said was mainly a political gesture.

He advocated a reduction in state taxes on the contention that rising defense spending and resultant prosperity of the small buyer would produce enough revenue to retire the deficit and eliminate the necessity for the present tax level.

Political or not, the Garland statement was translated into the form of a tax cutting bill. It died when a group of Republican senators joined with the Olson administration to put over their point that before taxes are cut, the deficit actually should be out of the way, with a reserve in tow to cushion any shock of post war panic.

Summing up the outlook in August, Finance Director George Killion said that the state could retire its deficit and have a cash surplus of more than $50,000,000 in two years.

He said sales tax collections for April, May and June of this year will exceed all previous records with a possible unprecedented total of $33,500,000, almost $4,000,000 more than the peak quarter fiugres for 1940.

New car sales went up more than 50 per cent. Small buyers went on a spree of household equipment buying, fearing—as developments nationally began to indicate—that these articles may become virtually unobtainable as national defense goes smashing on through priority after priority.

Nevertheless, said Killion, if priority restrictions do not clamp down too heavily, the state can look forward to the retirement of its general fund deficit sooner than anticipated in the budget.

Industry's defense production job is equivalent to the task of building five Panama Canals a month.

Federal government appropriations for non-military purposes for the fiscal year 1942 are more than twice as large as those for 1932, ten years ago.

Three out of four executives in the steel industry started at production jobs in the mills and worked their way up.
